Children’s Activity Calendar

5 National Anti-Boredom Month: Boredom is linked with increased creativity. Today’s your change to let yourself be bored and see what creative ideas come to you! Screens off. Brains on!	6 His Holiness the 14th Dalai Lama’s Birthday: Introduce your students to His Holiness, the exiled head of Tibet and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, through photos and videos on his website.	7 Happy Book Birthday to Danbi Leads the School Parade by Anna Kim
12 National Ice Cream Month: Can you and your students craft flavors like the pros? Ben & Jerry’s is open to submissions. While you must be 18 to enter, your students can help get the wheels of delicious creativity turning!	13 Ashley Bryan’s Birthday: Share Infinite Hope, poet Ashley Bryan’s deeply moving memoir.	14 Susana Martinez’s Birthday: Martinez made history as the first Latina governor in the United States and first woman to be elected governor of New Mexico.
19 National Ice Cream Day: No better Sunday to enjoy a sundae!	20 National Picnic Month: Make a display of essential items for a picnic, including a blanket, plates, food, and beverages. Then invite students to help build a stack of books they’d take picnicking with them.	21 Happy Book Birthday to V Is for Voting by Kate Farrell, illustrated by Caitlin Kuhwald.
26 On this day in 1990, the Americans with Disabilities Act was signed into law, prohibiting discrimination based on disabilities. Evaluate whether your classroom or library is fully accessible to all students.	27 National Park and Recreation Month: Take students on virtual tours of some of the country’s most beautiful national parks.	28 National Hamburger Day: Read The Perfect Hamburger by Alexander McCall Smith, and take a survey of students’ favorite burger toppings!

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

SATURDAY

1 Second Half of the Year Day: You did it! You made it halfway through the year! Celebrate by taking things in halves today: sandwiches, books, drinks, you name it!	2 World UFO Day: Are there any UFO believers in your classroom or library? Have students draw pictures of what they think an alien might look like.	3 Stay Out of the Sun Day: You might be tempted to use today as an excuse to stay indoors, but what if instead you used it for the most epic round of walk-on-the-shadows? See who can make it the farthest without stepping on the sun!	4 Independence Day: Remind students of our right and responsibility as citizens of the United States to use our voices for change. Share Vote for Our Future! by Margaret McNamara, illustrated by Micah Player.
8 Video Games Day: Invite your students to talk to you about their favorite video games and why they love them so much. I recommend Untitled Goose Game.	9 National Sugar Cookie Day: Dress up your book drop as Cookie Monster and invite your students to feed him their favorite reads.	10 National Don't Step on a Bee Day: Summer fun and shoeless play go hand-in-hand, but watch out for any apiary friends that might be busy at work underfoot.	11 Patricia Polacco's Birthday: Watch Patricia talk about the many ways her family history inspires her stories and illustrations.
15 National Gummi Worm Day: Check out these creative activities you can try with these wiggly, squiggly treats!	16 Guinea Pig Appreciation Day: How do you talk to guinea pigs to let them know they are appreciated? Here's a video from the Guinea Pig Whisperer with tips.	17 World Emoji Day: Challenge students to design their own series of emojis!	18 Nelson Mandela's Birthday: Celebrate the birthday of the first black president of South Africa by reading Grandad Mandela by Ambassador Zindzi Mandela with Zazi and Ziwelene Mandela, illustrated by Sean Qualls.
22 National Penuche Day: What exactly is penuche? Martha Stewart's recipe video will whet your appetite.	23 National Mosquito Day: Celebrate everyone's least favorite insect by reading Ricky Ricotta's Mighty Robot vs. the Mutant Mosquitoes from Mercury by Dav Pilkey, illustrated by Dan Santat.	24 National Drive-Thru Day: In recent months, we have all discovered the importance of drive-thrus. We have drive-thru banks, restaurants, and even mechanics. What other drive-thrus can students think of?	25 Thread the Needle Day: Will you use the day to sew? Or to find the path forward between two opposing thoughts? Either way, here's hoping it's a peaceful and restful day.
29 National Hot Dog Month: It's the perfect time to read The Pigeon Finds a Hot Dog by Mo Willems and challenge students to invent their own hot dog recipes.	30 National Cheesecake Day: Delight your students with a no-bake rainbow cheesecake dessert fit for a unicorn (or a rainy day) from the folks at Tastemade!	31 J.K. Rowling's Birthday: Don your best dress robes and share the new Harry Potter at Home website to celebrate the creator of everyone's favorite wizard today.
